

AES-APES VECR

AES-APES Virtual Early Career Researchers Seminar Series

What is it?	A virtual seminar series
Who can present?	International Early Career Researchers who work in health economics Submit your abstract here (300 words).
When will it happen?	Starting in July, it will happen monthly on Tuesdays 2-3pm CET. Dates: July 21, August 11, September 8, and October 13.
How can I join?	Information about each seminar will be disseminated one week in advance, including the Zoom link to the seminar. Sign up here for the mailing list

Introduction

The goal of this seminar series is to provide international early career researchers with the opportunity to present their work while many conferences and workshops are being cancelled or postponed. While the target speaker is an early career researcher in health economics the seminar is aimed at anyone interested in health economics and we specially invite senior researchers to participate and provide their comments and feedback.

Seminar structure

The 1-hour long seminar (5 min introduction + 30 min presentation + 25 min Q&A) are conducted in English and will take place once a month, on the second Tuesday of the month. A chair from the organising committee will be appointed for each seminar. During the seminar, the chair will introduce the speaker, keep the seminar on schedule, and moderate the discussion.

During the presentation, clarification questions can be posted in the Q&A section and will be addressed by co-authors (if present). Otherwise, the chair will go over these questions at the end of the session. During the Q&A part of the seminar, the audience members should use the “raise hand” option and the speaker will unmute them. The speaker will then answer their question and mute them again, moving to the next question.

Organisation

Submitted abstracts will be considered until 10 days before the seminar date. Every submitted piece of work will be considered for all of the upcoming seminars unless the author states otherwise.

Presenters will receive a certificate of participation from AES and APES and abstracts will be made available in both Associations websites (if approved by the authors).

For questions or suggestions please email aesec@aes.es or earlycareer@apes.pt

The organising committee consists of: Francisca Vargas Lopes (Erasmus U Rotterdam), Luís Filipe (NovaBSE and Lancaster U), Mario Jiménez-Martínez (Lancaster U), Myriam Soto-Gordoa (Mondragon U), and Joaquim Vidiella-Martin (Erasmus U Rotterdam). This seminar series is sponsored by the Early Career Committees of the Portuguese and Spanish Health Economics Associations (APES and AES, respectively).